Application, determination and site start are subject to change.

Your views and comments are welcomed to help us gain a further understanding of the key issues that we will need to address as part of the forthcoming Planning Application for the site.

When a formal planning application is submitted to East Ayrshire Council, the opportunity will exist at that stage for comments to be made directly to the Council in the consideration and determination of the planning application. Comments provided at this time are to the Applicant and not East Ayrshire Council.

There will be a further consultation event on Wednesday 20th November 2025 which will present more detailed proposals. During the second consultation event you will have a further opportunity to submit comments which will be considered before a planning application is submitted and provide feedback on the comments received at the first event.
